

About the Authors

Prof. Herbert Girardet is an author, consultant and film-maker. He is co-founder and director of programmes of the World Future Council. He is author and co-author of 12 books and 50 TV documentaries on many aspects of sustainable development. In recent years he has focussed mainly on the challenges of sustainable urban development. He has been a consultant to UNEP and UN-Habitat and has developed sustainability policies for major cities such as London and Vienna. In 2003 he was 'Thinker in Residence' in Adelaide, developing sustainable development strategies for South Australia. He has also been a senior adviser to the Dongtan Eco-City project on Chongming Island, Shanghai.

For 12 years Herbert was chairman of the Schumacher Society UK, which stages the annual Bristol Schumacher Lectures to commemorate the work of E. F. Schumacher. He is a recipient of a UN Global 500 Award 'for outstanding environmental achievements'. He is an honorary fellow of Royal Institute of British Architects, a patron of the Soil Association, UK, and a visiting professor at the University of the West of England. In 2004 Wiley-Academy published his book, Cities, People, Planet – Urban Development and Climate Change. In 2007 he edited Surviving the Century – Facing Climate Change and other Global Challenges, published by Earthscan for the World Future Council.

Miguel Mendonça is the World Future Council's Research Manager. His background is in forestry, horticulture, geography, history, journalism, social science and environmental ethics. He is a UK-based researcher, writer and advocate, and has spoken and campaigned successfully on four continents on the subject of the most effective renewable energy policy: feed-in tariffs. He has also introduced a variety of initiatives to improve international knowledge-transfer and discussion on them. Miguel focuses on social and political aspects of renewable energy policy, working for the rapid deployment of renewable energy around the world, and public participation in this process. He writes books, papers, articles, commentaries and reviews on sustainability issues, is author of the influential Feed-in Tariffs – accelerating the deployment of renewable energy (2007), and co-author of the follow-up, Powering the Green Economy: The Feed-in Tariff Handbook (2009).
